AAS RESTORATION RANKED #1 BY CCRN FOR APRIL

Disaster Kleenup International, Inc., North America's largest disaster restoration contracting organization, recently announced that AAS Restoration, previously AAS Restoration, based out of Kansas City, Missouri was ranked #1 by the Certified Contents Restoration Network (CCRN) for generating the greatest savings for insurance companies for the month of April, 2009.

AAS Restoration is proud to be a member of the Certified Contents Restoration Network (CCRN). To qualify, AAS Restoration staff has been trained and certified to restore smoke, soot, water, and even sewage contaminated soft contents and laundry. CCRN members undergo a strict certification process to ensure the safety and satisfaction of all parties involved – most importantly the policyholder. The equipment, supplies, and processes used by CCRN have been proven (in independent laboratory studies) to clean, restore and remove organic and non-organic contaminants.

"AAS Restoration saved insurance companies $105,570.01 on textiles that would have been replaced if not for the Esporta wash system and our highly skilled technicians," said Bruce Storts, president of AAS Restoration.

CCRN's Certification Board ensures that AAS Restoration has the correct equipment and supplies to produce a finished product that meets CCRN's high level of standard. This requires that AAS obtain the same equipment as those which have been used in the independent laboratory studies. The fundamental piece of equipment, the CCRN Certified Esporta Wash System, enables AAS Restoration to produce these proven results.

CCRN certified cleaning is the only way to guarantee that your smoke, soot, water, or sewage impacted soft contents and laundry are restored, cleaned, and disinfected at the highest level of standard.

If you have experienced a fire or water loss, make sure that your possessions are restored AAS Restoration's highest quality and certified techniques.
